

SUMMER READING CLUB

Summer Reading Report 2023

Summer Reading has wrapped up in the Palliser library region, and it had a massive impact on Saskatchewan residents! Each library branch hosted their own programs, and tailored their approach to the patrons in their communities. Some branches hosted weekly events, some hosted a handful of events throughout the summer, and others provided online programs or take-home kits throughout the summer months. Many of our branches experienced a significant increase in their summer programming this year, and over 9850 people benefitted from summer programming across the Palliser region!

In an attempt to showcase the immense impact that our summer reading programs have on literacy in the region, we asked each branch to record the total minutes that their patrons read over the summer months as a result of their programs. Due to the diversity of programming, we offered two methods of recording: paper reading logs and the Reader Zone app. As a result of Palliser's programs, patrons read a reported total of 649,481 minutes!

In addition to recording reading, Palliser headquarters also provided branches with a "Summer Reading Toolkit", which included optional pre-made materials for their programs. Our theme this year was "Mysteries and Capers". Materials included promotional materials, activity printables, literacy activity calendars, and paper reading logs. We also hosted an online meeting with branches to allow for collaboration and sharing of ideas.

This year, we received a lot of positive feedback about the pre-made materials Palliser headquarters provided, as well as the communication and training our branch staff received. Staff also shared some excellent ideas which we hope to implement in the future!

In this report, we have compiled all the reported statistics in the region, and then provided a section for each branch's statistics and descriptions of their programs this year. We are so proud of our branch staff, and all the hard work they put in to encourage literacy and connection in their communities, and we are honored to share their reports with you.

About the Program

We hosted in-library activities each Wednesday morning. Each session included stories and a craft. "Chalk the walk" was very popular. There were paper reading logs in addition to Reader Zone. Bookmarks were repurposed from 2022. None of these were returned but quite a few went out. Many children in the 0-11 age group participated in all aspects of the fun this summer: paper logs, in-library activities and Reader Zone.

Our library board contributed funds to pay the in-library facilitator and purchase supplies.

About the Program

We created a summer reading backpack, full of activities (lots from the Summer Reading Toolkit from Headquarters), plus we purchased rainbow scratch paper, bingo dabbers, fabric paint to decorate the bag, and included a gently used book. We also had a box of brand new kids crafts, puzzles, etc and we put one in each bag. We had a huge treasure box that the kids could go in each week if they read. Our final 5 grand prizes for kids were a huge basket with chips, pop, $15 McDonald's Gift Card, a game, a book, sour gummies and a pencil case or another smaller item.

We did a huge basket of adult prizes for them to enter their name in (everyone gets a prize).

Our program was run in conjunction with play patrol so there was outside time, gym time, and craft activities for 50 hours for the summer.

We received funding from the Bethune Recreation Board to run Summer Reading and Play Ptro. We also received funding from our school council for the prizes for the kids.

About the Program

Lacey did some extra programming this summer above our usual story and craft day on Wednesday. She held a passive program scavenger hunt where she hid a different letter every day in the library and then patrons earned points for each book they checked out that had it in the title or the author's name started with it. We also had a Tuesday buddy reading program where older readers partnered up with tots to read stories and play. We held two week-long day camps for 5 hours each day where registrants spent time working on other forms of literacy such as physical, cultural, and social. We also had a Danny Kazam magic show, which had an overwhelming turnout. We also held a little competition called "Beat the Librarians" to see if any of the adults who signed up on Reader Zone could out-read the librarians. We won. :)

We received the summer grant from the Community Initiatives Fund (CIF) in order to host the summer camp.

About the Program

We had a few different things going on this summer. We had a Sci-Fi camp for 6 weeks and when that wasn't on we had our Play Leaders providing games and crafts! Our Sci-Fi camp, along with the garden stone & windchimes were our biggest hits. We also had quite a few take home craft kits go out (131).

Thanks to the CIF (Community Initiatives Fund) grant, we were able to supply craft supplies and games, and hire two play leaders to help out this summer.

About the Program

We had a program every Wednesday this year starting in June! We picked a theme and ran with it for two weeks at a time, with a larger program day one Wednesday with three for four crafts and activities, and then a drop in passive craft the next Wednesday. We made take home kits for some of the people who had registered but didn't make it in person. They were a huge hit. Our main theme this year was "Choose your own Adventure". We did "traveling for adventure", "Fairy tales and folklore", "Goosebumps and creepy stories", and "mysteries and capers". We also encouraged everyone to keep track of their minutes. Kids were able to pick a prize for every hour of reading they kept track of with their bookmarks, and we had prizes at the end of summer for kids, teens, adults and the family with the most minutes altogether.

About the Program

At the Elbow Public Library, we were able to enjoy a weekly summer program with the children, where we read books and discussed what the story focused on (i.e. friendship, gratitude). We did a craft and we also had physical activity in the gymnasium.

We received a CIF (Community Initiatives Fund) grant for the program.

About the Program

We provided opportunities for youth to come into the library and have a story read to them and to work on a craft (or several crafts) each week during the month of August. We did beading, paperclip painting, button making, Perler beads, wheel weaving and God's eyes. Some patrons chose to do their crafts at home, but most stayed at the library for the program. Some patrons took home and returned the Summer Reading Logs provided by headquarters.

About the Program

Thanks to our grant from the International Space Agency we were able to offer many special space-themed programs throughout the summer. Our two summer students ran our "Creative Space" program every Thursday and visited the children at the parks program all summer. We also ran a baby storytime every Tuesday, a Storytime in the Park every Wednesday, special space themed programs on Saturdays and had the YARA camp kids come visit for some space-themed activities. We also had our "Maker Saturdays" for kids as well as a STEM program for kids in August.

Adult Summer Reading Club involved one summer-long activity - Book-opoly. Participants completed challenges on sections of the playing boards for ballots into the grand prize draw. There were also weekly prize draws where participants received a ballot if they submitted a book review (with a maximum of one ballot/week).

We received a CSA (Canadian Space Agency) grant to run some of our programs, and the Friends of the Library contributed toward the children's portion.

About the Program

Mortlach didn't have a specific summer reading program, but we hosted a used book sale and raffle at the Saskatoon Berry Festival in Mortlach. The local day camp also visited for an activity and story. We started reading bingo on September 5th and it will run until October 5th. This is part of our celebration for Palliser's 50th Anniversary.

We receive funding for extra open hours from the Mortlach Village and the R.M.

About the Program

We had 8 awesome kids prizes. Anyone under 18 could get their name in the draw bucket by submitting reading bookmarks or adding minutes to Reader Zone, taking out materials and/or attending an event. Top summer reader got first pick. We had an adult/teen prize basket with a Yeti cup. We had "1000 minutes of summer reading" sheets to fill out, or bookmarks, or Reader Zone and/or they could take out materials to get their name in the draw. We're really excited about our stats this year. We held 3 big events: a magic show, the Science Centre, and Bricks for Kidz. All had an excellent turnout. We also partnered with the town to host several Lego times during their Kids Camps over a 2 week period. All in all we had a great summer!

About the Program

Because the majority of our summer population is seasonal visitors, we have found informal programming to be effective. We distributed several paper reading logs for parents and grandparents to track their children's reading, but did not require that they were returned. Three teens came into the library at various times to talk about what they were reading and made suggestions about what they would like to have available. Six school aged children came to the library to look for books and recommendations of what to read, some with parents/grandparents and some independently. Three of these children also came a few times to use the games and puzzles available for use within the library, or to use the public computer to play educational games. Additionally, we had a few children who visited the library with a relative to borrow books and DVD's while they were visiting.

About the Program

The Rockglen Library hired Karyss (age 14) who created "Crafts with Karyss". Karyss created the program every Wednesday in the summer from 1 to 2 PM. It was fantastic with great participation & super fun! Themes included lizards, rockets, and bugs, and we had an ice cream treat wind up.

We received a grant from SLA (Saskatchewan Library Association) as well as a grant from the Rockglen Recreation Board.

About the Program

We had a fun summer with weekly stories and crafts. Our Kick Off included the Mystery Puzzle provided by Palliser as well as snacks, of course. Next, we read "Officer Panda, Fingerprint Detective", took our fingerprints and discovered whether we had whorls, arches or loops, then we drew funny pictures using our fingerprints. The remaining weeks we read stories and created coordinating crafts for lots of fun! On August 22 we held the FINALE where the leading readers in the Children, Teen & Adult categories were awarded a gift basket. The kids also went on a Scavenger Hunt, led by an enthusiastic group of Grade 7 students, around town. I was surprised and elated that the Grade 7s had as much fun as the kids. For the very end of summer programming we had Danny Kazam here for a Young Wizards Camp which had a great attendance, and was excellent.

About the Program

The best programming this summer was actually taking our summer reading program to the Wood Mountain Park. The kids loved the book selections and enjoyed the challenge sheets of reading 100 places in the park. This was the best way to reach kids as there are very few kids in the area at this time.
